

EPoS YOUNG SCHOLAR RESEARCH FUNDING 2024

The Research Area EPoS (Economy, Politics & Society) announces a grant/seed money for research activities related to EPoS in 2024/2025. It is exclusively addressed to young scholars in the late stages of their PhD and early stage careers (non-tenured), who are members of the Research Area. The call specifically addresses research ideas that are innovative, timely, and contribute to responsible economy, politics & society. In this broad field, all research topics and methodologies are invited. Sustainable, interdisciplinary and cooperative research projects are particularly encouraged and will be given priority over other applications.

Funding may cover costs for field work, travel expenses, data analysis, and related costs. Personnel expenses, printing costs or funding for specific technical equipment are not eligible.

The research grant aims to push research projects which are early stage and should help researchers to apply for an external research grant. The proposed research activities should be mainly accomplished within one year.

Funding requirements

- Applicants must be members of the Research Area EPoS
- Novelty – research projects, which are not already part of a funded project
- Costs of € 2.500,- at maximum (a total of € 20.000 is available; any amount is eligible; proposals with higher costs are not considered; the proposed amount of costs is not considered as quality criterion in the review process)
- Brief report and (poster) presentation of funded research at an EPoS Summit in 2025

Proposal format

Fill out the attached application form EPoS YOUNG SCHOLAR RESEARCH FUNDING 2024

Submit your proposal form including attachments (short bio, list of publications) to epos@uibk.ac.at until 30.06.2024 latest.

Submissions of female applicants are particularly encouraged.

The proposals will be reviewed by the managing team and approved by the Advisory Board members of the Research Area EPoS (within one month).

Andrea Hemetsberger, Dominik Duell & Markus Walzl